 - New Jersey's supplement: $31.25
 - Categories
 - Aged person – 65 years or older
 - Blind
 - Disabled
- Spouse, children and survivors do not receive benefits
- Medicaid - no waiting period

Definition of Disability for Adults

“The inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable, physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.”

5 Step Sequential Evaluation

1. Is the claimant working? If yes, is it substantial gainful activity?
2. Is the impairment severe?
3. Does the impairment meet or equal a listing?
4. Can the claimant return to his/her past work?
5. Is there any other work that the claimant can do?

Definition of Disability for Children

“If you are under age 18, we will consider you disabled if you have a medically determinable physical or mental impairment or combination of impairments that causes marked and severe functional limitations, and that can be expected to cause death or that has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.”

- Medical equivalence or
- Functional equivalence

Children receiving SSI benefits are supposed to be re-evaluated upon reaching the age of 18 using the adult definition and evaluation.

§ 404.1572. What we mean by substantial gainful activity.

Substantial gainful activity is work activity that is both substantial and gainful:

(a) Substantial work activity. Substantial work activity is work activity that involves doing significant physical or mental activities. Your work may be substantial even if it is done on a part-time basis or if you do less, get paid less, or have less responsibility than when you worked before.

(b) Gainful work activity. Gainful work activity is work activity that you do for pay or profit. Work activity is gainful if it is the kind of work usually done for pay or profit, whether or not a profit is realized.

(c) Some other activities. Generally, we do not consider activities like taking care of yourself, household tasks, hobbies, therapy, school attendance, club activities, or social programs to be substantial gainful activity.

Listing of Impairments

- Each body system-musculoskeletal, cardiovascular, neurological, mental health-has a list of criteria that needs to be meet in order to be found disabled.
- Listings can be found at <https://www.ssa.gov/disability/professionals/bluebook/AdultListings.htm>
- There is a separate listing for adults and children
- Claimant can present a combination of impairments that may meet a listed impairment
- Claimant may not meet or equal an impairment but they may lack the residual functional capacity to perform substantial gainful activity.

Example

- 12.05 Intellectual disorder (see 12.00B4), satisfied by A or B:

- A. Satisfied by 1, 2, and 3 (see 12.00H):

1. Significantly subaverage general intellectual functioning evident in your cognitive inability to function at a level required to participate in standardized testing of intellectual functioning; and
2. Significant deficits in adaptive functioning currently manifested by your dependence upon others for personal needs (for example, toileting, eating, dressing, or bathing); and
3. The evidence about your current intellectual and adaptive functioning and about the history of your disorder demonstrates or supports the conclusion that the disorder began prior to your attainment of age 22.

- OR
